BACKGROUND AND INTRODUCTION

“It’s not, we’re going to be wiped out and nature will reclaim the world - we’re taking everything with us” — Josh, 13

For 4 months, 30+ rebels from around the UK spent 100+ hours on zoom discussing strategy, with workshops from over 30 internal and external advisors. We discussed everything from animal agriculture to zeroth demands.

We represented:

<ul style="list-style-type: none">☐ XR London & South East☐ XR East of England☐ XR Midlands☐ XR Cymru Wales☐ XR North East and Cumbria☐ XR Scotland☐ XR South-West☐ XR South-East☐ XR North☐ XR Internationalist Solidarity Network	<ul style="list-style-type: none">☐ UK Nonviolence☐ UK Regenerative Circle☐ XR Faith Voices☐ Movement of Movements☐ XR Youth☐ UK Media and Messaging☐ XR Working Class☐ Justice Steering Group☐ Disabled Rebels Network☐ UK Strategic Finance Circle☐ UK Actions Circle

We were selflessly supported by the Strategy Assembly Support Network. Thank you.

And thank you to local group rebels for staying rebellious in one tough lockdown 2020. You are the superheroes of this movement. we love you.

☐ LOVE LETTER TO THE MOVEMENT

This is especially for all those Bipoc Rebels who have left the movement. We thank you. We heard you. Hear you. And feel your absence. And to those still hanging on - we need you.

This letter was triggered by George Floyd's death but goes so much deeper. We are humans of colour, culture and identities regularly silenced. We are also known as Bipoc. We Bipoc people wrote a love letter to the movement and placed it at the top of the XR strategy for all to see. Putting us Bipoc first means we, XR, aren't falling for the trap of division used by the powerful to separate us.

No one should be left behind. Other oppressed groups are suffering right now - our disabled, youth, Lgbtq+ and working class rebels. They are not all spoken to directly in this letter but we want to say that your struggle is our struggle. We will work together. And we will strive together. Read all our Love Letter here.

☐ A THANK YOU LETTER TO THE MOVEMENT

Dearest Rebels, Interested People, Sceptics, anti-XR people, Trump,

We are Radical Love. Radical Inclusion. Radical Support. Radical Trust

Pssst. This strategy is imperfect. It's inevitable! It was our first attempt at co-creating a strategy with 30+ strangers, with differing levels of experience. At this point, it's good enough. And it's just a document, it can change, just as XR UK evolves to truly embrace what we must do to succeed as a movement, in the face of ever-increasing dangerous oppressions and marginalisation.

Please receive it with love, it's how it was made. The longer version is a raucous rebellious ride of ideas, deeper delves into movement analysis, strategic solutions, practical inspirations, just click here!

So, this is not just a strategy. It's a reflection of who we are. XR UK is an amazing group of people, all ages and backgrounds* uniting against climate breakdown, racism, social injustice, disablism, oppression of gender, race, faith, sexuality and class, exploitation, extractivism and othering. Phew. It's hard work! Take a moment...

We are all epic. All crew.

THANK YOU!

☐ 2020 - A YEAR OF LOCKDOWN, LOSS AND LOVE

(AND SOME REBEL WELLY)

Covid-19 has been devastating. We all mourn the huge loss of life, despair at the failure of government, their criminal incompetence. We've seen how fragile societal systems are, and know the Climate and Ecological Crisis will destroy us.

The government's version of Build Back Better is to bail out polluters and an inadequate 10 point plan. Greenwashing is rampant. Even the British Medical Journal described the government's response to Covid-19 as Social Murder, and global warming increases pandemics.

But Covid-19 has shown us the government and media have tremendous power to radically inform and change the general public's behaviour, and this can give us active hope.

And XR UK has survived through lockdown, adapting to circumstances with projects like Digital Rebellion and Money Rebellion. We THANK AND LOVE all those rebels staying active, being rebellious.

Rebels - you are WONDERFUL!!!

⚓ WHY WE'RE FRAMING OUR STRATEGY WITH THE PRINCIPLES AND VALUES...

XR Principles and Values are what holds us together in this movement. They are our anchor, our foundation.

Our Ps & Vs need to be practiced daily, part of our everyday work and activism. It's our collective responsibility - as we act with love and rage - to be our best versions of ourselves, and stay true to them. Oh, and say "Sorry" when we mess up!

2021: The Government are trying to stop us.

This is a violation of EVERYONE'S HUMAN RIGHTS.

So, for the children, animals, biodiversity, the Majority World, all the Oppressed, we stand with our global family in sheer love and rage. And absolute defiance.

OUR 2021 STRATEGIC DO OR DIE GOALS

1. We have a shared vision of almighty change

Reality check:

We are part of a bigger world than the clique we may have become, and we are working alongside many other Movement of Movements to bring about climate and social justice. The whole planet is screwed. We can't do this without being part of this Movement of Movements. Crikey, really it will take billions of us around the planet, and that sounds impossible. Isn't XR all about the Impossible? Hell yeah.

Strategic Promises:

XR UK will support rebels to protest in the face of this increasingly authoritarian government. We'll support those able to take direct action, and create digital or remote options for radical inclusion. The Strategy Assembly held many individual visions but collectively we agreed this 2021-? strategy:

THE STRATEGY ASSEMBLY THREE GOALS

Let's come out of lockdown determined to defend the world's children, Majority World, animals, Biodiversity, the land and sea that humans are killing. Let's:

1. Explode from lockdown with inspirational Non Violent Direct Action, from local actions to remote options to mass actions, demanding zero carbon by 2025. We won't be intimidated by the government
2. Each and every rebel to mobilise for actions escalating to COP26, with all actions designing in safer options for those not able to risk arrest
3. We are part of a Movement of Movements, one global family, so to fight this toxic system we must prioritise working with all the oppressed and exploited, and groups protecting our planet's biodiversity and habitat. Check out this nifty Movement of Movements Directory.

And we planned how to achieve them, or it's all just a load of hot air! (Click here for XR UK's Three Demands!).

*AND NEVER MIND THEORIES OF CHANGE, HERE'S THE **

STRATEGIES FOR CHANGE

1. Deliver UK-wide trainings and resources on Co-liberation - including anti-oppression and unconscious bias, and access and radical inclusion workshops to all Local Groups
2. Prioritise the recruitment of Bipoc, working class, LGBTQ+, disabled and neurodiverse people to positions of power-fullness at all levels, providing wo-mentoring and financial support as much as possible
3. Promote Community Engagement & Empowerment - further resource and support grassroots activism like Trust the People, Climate Emergency Centres, HS2, Silvertown Tunnel protest and Deep Water

4. Female leadership. 'Nuff said.

2021 - THE VISION FOR ACTIONS

Here's XR UK Actions Calendar, our XR UK Campaigns and our Our Loveable Targets of Power:

<input type="checkbox"/> Media	<input type="checkbox"/> Fossil Fuels & Oil
<input type="checkbox"/> Government	<input type="checkbox"/> Trade & Industry
<input type="checkbox"/> Banking & Finance	<input type="checkbox"/> Grr.

Gimme, gimme gimme some juicy tactics? You're absolutely welcome! And for remote options for radical inclusion, join Digital Rebellion and Money Rebellion. Or join one/lots of these dandy XR Groups.

Keep up to date with Rebellion Broadcast/Broadcast on Telegram and global events - Global Rebellion Broadcast.

We have so much to humbly learn from our global family. Indigenous communities living in harmony with their land, in self-organising communities celebrating eldership and female power, fighting extractivism.

They're the front line of planetary activism - join XR UK Internationalist Solidarity Network.

It's A-COPalypse Now! **

COP26 is set to fail, 2050 is too late. So, whether you're planning to rebel in Glasgow, take part in digital mayhem, local actions and outreach or mass protest, treat this year like it's Do or Die for the planet. COP a load of this XR UK action.

XR Creative Circle works at the heart of XR's actions: amplifying our messages through brilliant design and building creativity into actions; from Art Blockers and Paint The Streets to Protest Architecture, Sound & Music and Performance.

Creative groups are also drivers of mobilisation, community building and regenerative practice. Paint The Streets campaigns and creative actions kept many rebels going through lockdown!

The UK-wide Creative Circle sits within UK Actions. Graphic design (Art group) and Content Creators team (video, photography etc) circles sit within M&M. They work closely together.

2. We gotta welcome everyone and every part of everyone

Reality Check:

We listened to disabled rebels tell us how disappointed they are with the movement, how their needs and rights are ignored on a regular basis throughout XR UK. We sincerely apologise to everyone who's encountered disablism in the movement, or oppression in its many forms, and we ask that everyone reads this Inclusivity Resource Pack. We must recognise where we've failed - and continue to fail - disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse rebels, Lgbtq+ and people with invisible conditions. We must treat everyone with dignity and respect. All needs must be met.

Strategic Promises:

XR UK will prioritise the recruitment of disabled, D/deaf, neurodiverse rebels, people with invisible conditions, Bipoc, women, Lgbtq+ and working class people to positions of power-fullness within the movement. And upskill all rebels in access and inclusion workshops. NOW!

3 Images:

2. A young child drawing alongside an XR flag
3. Children from XR Muslims hang a mobile of paper boats from a tree

3. Eek, we set our Mission on what's necessary, and practise Radical Inclusion

Reality Check:

80% of rebels in an anonymous survey said they find outreach difficult and don't enjoy it. Cue: grimace. Early 2020 saw the launch of a mass mobilisation project but when Covid-19 hit, it went belly up! Lockdown scuppered traditional outreach and whilst Digital Rebellion has been a great success, many of us have gone a bit zoomicide.

Strategic Promises:

Local Groups will be asked to mobilise like their pants are on fire (never mind the house analogy!). Movement of Movements is a priority. LGs can access:

- Full support, resources and inspiring new workshops from LG Development crews, including accessibility training, Inclusivity Resource Pack here
 - A new mass mobilisation campaign for rebels with a bit of extra fire in the belly, providing the wildest range of options to be truly inclusive, all looked after by the Mother Hub. Ahhhh.
 - More ooh la la ways to get back out mobilising, BANG THIS
 - LGs to hold lots of People's Assemblies to show the public what real democracy feels like
 - LGs - think BIG because you'll mobilise more people, so follow the new But KNOW YOUR RIGHTS rebels.

- Fully promote Cover Your AAS (Activist & Actions Support) Trainings every Sunday, 3pm designed to empower your XR tribe to run amazing, impactful actions. Click here to reserve your place, varying weekly from Witnessing Police Behaviour to DeEscalation training (NVD Breathe). Trainings Calendar here.

3. A protestor carries a handdrawn sign saying "Trans, Queer, Poor, Young, Old, All Black Lives Matter"

4. We sure as heck need a regenerative culture

Reality check:

Hmmm, for a movement with regenerative practices as a Principle, we're not doing so peachy. As a movement, we're still learning what it means to work in regenerative ways and some rebels are working awful hours suffering high levels of burnout and damaging their personal lives. PS, the planet is bleeped, so we need to centre the spirit sisters of regeneration - transformative adaptation and deep adaptation - in our regenerative practices.

Strategic Promises:

Regenerative circle has a new rebel-focused mandate, full of vibrant wellbeing ideas to reboot regenerative practices through all working groups: from national to Local Group to community, faith and identity groups. Practically, XR UK can:

- Better promote decentralised projects like XR North's Dig For and trespass-defying This Land is our Land.

Even 75% of the police think the new trespass laws suck

- Celebrate existing XR groups more - we are fertile with groups protecting biodiversity and defending the land
- Climate activism is hard! Do you need support, we need to advertise more! Here you go!

5. We absolutely have to openly challenge ourselves and our toxic culture

Reality check:

Does XR UK have a shelf life? 2020 was demoralizing for our lockdown movement. How many big rebellions do we have left in us before rebels feel it's time to try something else? But time is running OUT. Governments and industries couldn't care less they're Heading us for Extinction. WE DO. This year - for our movement and planet - it's DO OR DIE. Here's the Actions Calendar.

Strategic Promises:

No holding back. Reach for the (north) stars!

Here's our XRUK Campaigns. Those huggable targets, and all-important juicy tactics - digital disruption, creative high-jacking, obstructing vanity projects, iconic targets and psychological disruption, prefigurative actions.

pledge myself to the world” (A play on the national anthem) and “The truth, standing against the end of the world”

6. We really, really, really, must value reflection and learning

Reality check:

ew, it's tough looking in the mirror. The Strategy Assembly was the mother of all magnifying mirrors - did we always practise radical inclusion? Did newer rebels feel as valued as long-standing members? Did we adapt working practices quickly when it started going wonky? Did we show love? These tensions exist through our movement. Then, do we apply critical thinking to each and every action and interaction? How do we even gauge success? When we fail to learn from our inevitable gaffes, we struggle to evolve as individuals and as a movement. Uh-oh.

Strategic Promises:

We must all take Feedback and Learning more seriously, in our personal relationships and internal power structures:

- Here's a Personal Power form to give to others. Don't be afraid! It's liberating.
- We can be more critical and analytical of actions, to improve impacts. Start with this!
- We don't have enough volunteers in UK-wide or national working groups, and our integration skills need some TLC. Everyone should feel equal. They don't. 2021, everyone will power-up.
- Improve communications - did you know Lockdown Rebellion was really quite successful?!

Image: A silver haired woman sits on the road in Parliament Square, refusing to acknowledge the police kneeling on either side of her as they ask her to move.

7. We actively mitigate power (sssshhh, we got rid of the 'for'!)

Reality check:

nee-nah, nee-nah, nee-nah! XR UK is slipping into a patriarchal way of working, with process stifling voices and creativity, creating unhealthy workloads that often fall on the women. Bureaucracy is replacing common sense. We passively aggressively discuss internal power without working on how to empower everyone. Sod that. Let's fix this. We need Co-liberation to set all our magnificence free. Come on, we have toxic societal structures to defeat!

Strategic Promises:

Female leaderful-ness is the future, creating healthy and nurturing work practices, with Bipoc and women from marginalised spaces at the helm. End of.

Not quite the end of... then, there'll also be female-designed wo-mentorship to support women into their power.

Mother Love is coming. Psst Home Secretary: we can't stop trying to save lives.

Image: Tensegrity structures block the Broxbourne printing press, synced with sister actions in Knowsley, Merseyside and Motherwell, North Lanarkshire

8. We avoid blaming and shaming (even though it's ohhh sooooo tempting)

Reality check:

after a year of stressful lock-down, tensions are a-plenty, movement-wide. Many of us hate conflict but it's clear leaving issues to fester only escalates them. So, internally we need to embrace nonviolent communication and use intervention techniques early. These same skills will help us emotionally and publicly deal with what we often feel is pure evil - government, powerful individuals and destructive corporations. And the 'opposition' Labour party is losing its edge, so we must remain strong and constructive in our opposition. We have a secret weapon. Love.

Strategic Promises:

not only are we facing protest oppression - Rest in Peace, Sarah, we're also women rising up against gender-violence. Then, there's systemic racism, modern slavery and post-Covid anti-green recovery. But we'll maintain our nonviolence, swot up on deescalation skills and seek help when needed. We'll just swear our heads off in private ☹️.

Image: The 'Justice Now' march, including Cardiff and Valleys Black Lives Matter, Justice for Palestine, Stand up for Racism and XR Cymru, XR Bristol and XR South West, September 2020

9. We are a nonviolent network, hell yeah!

Reality check:

we're living under state violence - 130,000 people - mostly disabled and chronically sick - have died due to Austerity since 2010, and the government is using Covid to silence dissent against climate and social injustice. Changes to the law can not stop us. We will still rise up. Being nonviolent is our movement's backbone and heartbeat, yet many rebels don't know about the rich UK history of nonviolent protest. And with rebels being asked to fully explore MoMs outreach, nonviolence training may inspire others to be brave enough to rise up, together.

Strategic Promises: Deliver nonviolent workshops and support materials to all LGs, provide training in nonviolent communication, Movement of Movements relationship building, increase the delivery of NVDA training, and develop alternative versions for different groups of people, like Bipoc, faith groups, families...

1. XR Youth locked on, blocking Clifton Suspension Bridge, Bristol
2. A sign saying: "Sorry for the inconvenience, we're trying to save the world"
3. Rebels slow walking in front of a tanker lorry at Horse Hill oil extraction site

10. We are based on autonomy and decentralisation

Reality check: agh, XR UK needs money to survive, that's just the reality - in 2020, Voluntary Living Expenses were cut across the movement. To recruit people from marginalised groups, XR UK needs to boost its bank balance, and also decentralise more funds to UK-wide groups. We just don't have enough volunteers in nation and region coordinating groups or national level, so welcoming people into these spaces with great support is vital (roles from 2 hours a week!).

Many Local Group rebels still feel central working groups are inaccessible and they don't necessarily feel heard, or have great access to resources or centralised help if needed. Every rebel must believe in their full power, and have clearer pathways to achieve it. 2021 will be hard for protest, we'll all need each other to reach our fullest potential.

Strategic Promises: Izzy whizzy let's get busy!

- Funds will be better decentralised - the majority is currently spent in support circles, and fund-raising will work with other circles to create an all-singing campaign to boost the bank balance
- It's VITAL we recruit Bipoc, working class, disabled, Lgbtq+ or people on poverty wages, so we must be able to support them with VLE, and wo-mentorship, as much as possible
- Workshops will be created to support people to take their power and fly, and extra care to welcome all our new volunteers, and love-up those who've been slogging away for ages
- The decentralising project can continue connecting national and local working groups, whilst the Systems Realignment can help fix our internal wonky bits
- Local Groups to receive fund-raising resources and support to fill their organic piggy banks.
